

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT EXERCISE

EXERCISE EXERCISE EXERCISE

SCARLET HAWK 11-12

Base and local community emergency service personnel respond to a simulated crop duster crash, with casualties, during Exercise Scarlet Hawk 11-12 at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, Nov. 16, 2011. The exercise was in conjunction with the base's 2011 Compliance Inspection.

Fire Chief Richard Alter recounts the current emergency management exercise situation to J. Garrett and C. Snodgrass, Register Nurses from Shannon Medical Center in San Angelo, during Exercise Scarlet Hawk 11-12 at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, Nov. 16, 2011. San Angelo firefighters also responded and provided ambulance services to the base.

A firefighter from the 17th Civil Engineer Squadron hoses down an emergency management exercise victim following the simulated crash of a crop duster during Exercise Scarlet Hawk 11-12 at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, Nov. 16, 2011. The exercise was in conjunction with the base's 2011 Compliance Inspection.

EXERCISE EXERCISE EXERCISE

Fire Chief Richard Alter is the Incident Commander during Exercise Scarlet Hawk 11-12 at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Nov. 16, 2011. This image was captured during high tempo operations of the emergency management exercise which involved the simulated crash, on base, of a local crop duster.

Firefighters, from the 17th Civil Engineer Squadron, prepare the simulated pilot for helicopter evacuation during Exercise Scarlet Hawk 11-12 at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, Nov. 16, 2011. Exercises are conducted to ensure base personnel are prepared to respond to any contingency.

Airman Sean Wallis, a student with the 316th Training Squadron, portrays an accident victim during Exercise Scarlet Hawk 11-12, at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, Nov. 16, 2011. The exercise involved the simulation of a crop duster crash on the base.